DEAR GUESTS,

Welcome to Montreux Riviera, a real corner of paradise, which has attracted so many artists, men of letters and travellers in search of natural beauty, peace and inspiration.

Indeed, it was certainly not by chance that Charlie Chaplin chose to spend the last 25 years of his life on the hillside behind Vevey, or that Freddie Mercury immortalized Lake Geneva and the peaks of the Grammont on the cover of his album “Made in Heaven”, or that Stravinsky composed the “Rite of Spring” at Montreux, or that the singer Prince declared his love for Lavaux in a song called after the famous terraced vineyard, part of the UNESCO World Heritage.

How do you explain the attraction that Montreux Riviera held for Hemingway, Nabokov, Sissi and so many others? Perhaps it's the advantages of the microclimate, or the splendours of a lake that you cannot but admire, or the surrounding mountains, both impressive and reassuring, or the sunsets that resemble the paintings of the masters...? No doubt all of these aspects! But whatever the reasons that attracted you to Montreux Riviera, I would like to wish you the most pleasant, relaxing and inspiring stay.

Christoph Sturny,
Director of Montreux-Vevey Tourism

HISTORY

Montreux Riviera is a peaceful, internationally-renowned region, where tourism took off at the beginning of the 19th century. Two hundred years later, the terraced vineyards of Lavaux are a listed UNESCO World Heritage Site.

Lavaux's remarkable story began as far back as the 12th century. It was at this time that a number of monasteries set about clearing the steep hillside, at an angle of 15 to 100 degrees, in order to plant vineyards. Monks from the region built a series of walls, forming terraces, in order to support and flatten the land that today is recognised around the world both for its beauty and for the excellence of its wines. During this period, the first Counts of Savoy ruled over the emblematic Chillon Castle, on the shores of Lake Geneva. Among them, Thomas 1st decided to build a “new town” called “Ville Neuve de Chillon”, which later became Villeneuve. Thanks to its strategic location, this lakeside medieval town was quick to prosper through trade before tourism took over as the dominant industry in the early 19th century.

Vevey began to develop in the 18th century, mainly thanks to its dynamic industries and flourishing businesses. Montreux, on the other hand, continued to consist of small villages populated by farmers and craftsman.

Montreux Riviera region began attracting its first visitors and gaining a genuine reputation as a tourist resort due chiefly to the success of the literary works of Jean-Jacques Rousseau (“The New Heloise”, 1761) and Lord Byron (“The Prisoner of Chillon”, 1816). Enchanted by the descriptions of Chillon Castle and the surrounding area, European nobility, particularly the English, travelled here to find much-needed serenity and a change of scenery.

Montreux saw its first guest house open in 1815 to accommodate the ever-increasing number of visitors. Momentum grew, with the first large hotels being built from 1840 onwards and the arrival of the railway in 1861. During this era, the Orient Express even made a stop at Territet station.

Captivated by the beautiful scenery, the mild climate and the excellent quality of life, a number of famous figures hastened to visit the region, some even settling down in the area. Among the most well-known are Victor Hugo, Gustave Eiffel, Charlie Chaplin, Gandhi and Freddie Mercury.

Numerous personalities have sojourned in Montreux Riviera. Some were living in exile for religious or political reasons, others were just

Here are some of the most famous:

CHARLIE CHAPLIN (1889-1977). Screenwriter and film producer, Charlie Chaplin – the Tramp in “Modern Times” – settled in the Manoir de Ban in Corsier-sur-Vevey in 1953. His statue on the lakeside promenade recalls his 25-year stay in the region.

FREDDIE MERCURY (1946-1991). Freddie Mercury, singer of the rock band Queen, settled in Montreux because of its serenity. He bought a recording studio, where he recorded his last album with Queen: “Made in Heaven”.

LORD BYRON (1788-1824). An English poet, Lord Byron was also an aristocrat, heir to the title of baron. After visiting Chillon Castle, he wrote the famous poem “The Prisoner of Chillon” in 1816.

EMPRESS SISSI (1837-1898). Elizabeth of Austria, the empress who was popularised by a film series under the nickname Sissi, fled the difficulties of life at the Austrian court by travelling. Between 1893 and 1898 she stayed several times in the Lake Geneva region.

IGOR STRAVINSKY (1882-1971). The Russian composer Igor Stravinsky came to the Lake Geneva region for health reasons. He composed several major works here. The Congress Centre’s Auditorium bears his name.

VLADIMIR NABOKOV (1899-1977). American novelist, Russian by birth. After the Russian Revolution, Vera and Vladimir Nabokov lived in exile in Germany, France and the United States before settling in Switzerland in 1961.

An extraordinary fortified medieval castle in the most beautiful setting imaginable, on Lake Geneva surrounded by mountains!

The prestigious Chillon Castle is one of Switzerland's strongest symbols and the most visited historic monument in the country.

Built in the 12th century on a rocky island, it offered both natural protection and a strategic position, from which traffic between the north and south of Europe could be controlled. The powerful Dukes of Savoy lived there from the 13th to the 16th century, a glorious period for Chillon, which saw the construction of its many towers and splendid great halls.

This legendary place, with its twofold purpose – fortress and princely residence – has inspired some of the greatest names in literature, such as Lord Byron, Victor Hugo and Henry James.

It is possible to visit the Castle with an audioguide. Audiovisual terminals throughout the Castle; there is also a discovery tour for children and a variety of events throughout the year.

Stretching out over 830 hectares, Lavaux is one of the largest vineyards in Switzerland. Numerous charming and picturesque wine-growers' villages are tightly nestled around their wine cellars and fountains.

Monks were already cultivating the vines here in the eleventh century, on narrow terraces supported by stone walls. Ever since, generations of wine-growers with a respect for age-old traditions have maintained and shaped this exceptional mosaic which covers some 40 km of the slopes spanning along Lake Geneva. This cultural landscape houses 14 well-preserved villages; its growth and development during the past thousand years is the result of the harmonious interaction between the inhabitants and their environment.

For these reasons, and also due to the extraordinary beauty of its scenery, Lavaux has been a listed UNESCO World Heritage Site since June 2007, thus honouring the steep vineyards that overlook Lake Geneva and the mountains. Lavaux is also renowned for its wines and numerous gourmet restaurants.

Whether on foot, by bike or by boat, come and discover this world heritage site for yourself!

Guided tour, see on p. 84

The Old Town of Vevey is peppered with historical monuments and museums reflecting its rich past. A large variety of boutiques and artists' galleries boasting their wares and talent can also be found along the narrow cobbled streets.

Every Tuesday and Saturday morning, Vevey's market, with its colourful and aromatic stands, is held on the Grande Place, selling local produce and antiques. On Saturdays during July and August, the usual markets give way to folk markets where, in return for a modest sum, everyone is welcome to come and sample a variety of fine regional wines in the company of the wine-growers themselves. A joyful atmosphere is guaranteed with brass bands, alpine horns and wine-growers dressed in traditional costumes!

MONTREUX LAKESIDE

13 kilometres walk between
Vevey and Villeneuve

On the shores of Lake Geneva, the thirteen kilometer long quays of Montreux offer not only exotic flowers and palm trees but also a sumptuous view of the Alps.

Taking full advantage of the region's micro-climate, the city's gardeners imbue the lakeside with the colours and perfumes of many types of exotic trees and flowers. Specialty of Montreux, the plant sculptures, authentic works of ephemeral art, can be discovered from December to May between Clarens and Territet.

The statue of Freddie Mercury also stands on the quays in front of the Covered Market. This artist lived in Montreux for several years while recording his last album with the group Queen, "Made in Heaven", in the Mountain Studio that used to be in the Montreux Casino. Deceased in November 1991, his statue symbolises the affection the city feels for him.

An ideal walk

On foot from the centre of Montreux to Villeneuve (approx. 1 hr and 15 min). Chillon Castle and the famous Dents du Midi mountain range are two of the many sights you can enjoy along this route, which is suitable for all walkers. At the end of the walk, you can either cool down at the swimming pool or the beach in Villeneuve or continue along the town's cobbled Grande Rue or venture further afield to visit the Grangettes nature reserve if you wish.

OBRIST

ARTISANS DU VIN DEPUIS 1854

Obrist - creator of exceptional wines

The Cure d'Attalens, a viticultural gem in Lavaux and symbol for know-how and passion of the Obrist Winery.

TASTE

Montreux Riviera is a gourmet paradise. From its restaurants boasting star awards to its typical bars, the region satisfies the most demanding of palates. As for wine lovers, they can enjoy the wines from Lavaux, one of Switzerland's most famous vineyards.

Now part of the UNESCO World Heritage Sites, the terraced vineyards of Lavaux are well-known for their wines that are produced mostly from the Chasselas grape, a white variety typical of Switzerland. Chasselas is grown on 830 hectares with the label "AOC Lavaux" guaranteeing its quality. With a subtle flavour, the Chasselas reflects the characteristics of the soil in which it grows. It is a fruity, fresh wine, with a wonderful mineral character. It is ideal when served as an aperitif, or to drink with fish or cheese dishes. Boasting over 20 restaurants with famous chefs or star awards, Montreux Riviera is one of the most famous regions in the world for its culinary arts.

In addition to top-class gastronomy, the area's catering establishments use the best of local products. Perch filets from Lake Geneva, papet vaudois (a cantonal speciality, containing leeks and potatoes baked in cream and wine), cooked pork meats, cheeses and desserts: the cuisine offered by the Riviera is as pleasing by its richness as its creativity!

Every room or suite has a different decor combining comfort and charm, plus a view on the lake.

Thanks to its cuisine, its wines,
its setting...

L'Ermitage gives your meal
or your stay a taste of festivity!

For the quality of our cuisine, we simply leave that to your own judgment. Etienne Krebs was awarded the title of "cuisinier of the year" in 1995.
The restaurant is quoted with three
"toques" in the Gault-Millau Guide and one star Michelin.

In close proximity to the lakeside, the Historical Museum of Vevey retraces several centuries of Vevey's history.

The Historical Museum's vocation is to conserve the patrimony of the city and its surrounding areas. It is a charming museum and offers a varied content of alternating regional themes and original collections. Founded in 1897, the Historical Museum of Vevey occupies the halls of the Vevey Castle. Formerly known as "la Belle-Maison", this 16th century residence used to be the home of the Bernese bailiffs. It is in this historical building that the museum's collections bring alive the history of the region from the Celtic period to the present day.

Objects, documents and numerous iconographical artefacts are on display in an exhibit, which honours the character of the building. The unique collection of keys, locks and old caskets is particularly interesting.

The Fête des Vignerons (Winegrowers' Festival) takes place in Vevey one time per generation. The next one will happen in 2019. The Musée de la Confrérie des Vignerons (Museum of the Brotherhood of winegrowers), organizer of this festival, provides a great insight into this unique world event.

The Brotherhood of winegrowers, established its headquarters on the first floor of the Vevey Castle, a 16th century building owned by the brotherhood. The first written evidence of the existence of the brotherhoods goes back to 1647, but many clues lead one to suppose that it existed already in the Middle Ages.

While it is mostly known for the organisation of the winegrowers' Festival, the imposing celebration that takes place about every 20-25 years, the Brotherhood of Vintners' main objective is the promotion of the cultivation of the vine. In the museum, one can admire the costumes, engravings and many objects associated with past winegrowers' Festivals. Filmed extracts enable you to relive the Festivals from the beginning of the 20th century.

The Museum of Montreux is located in a group of the 17th century winegrower's houses that are at the edge of the Old Town. These houses, listed as part of the architectural heritage of Vaud, used to be in what was called the village of Sâles. Inside the museum, the rooms contain a collection of objects as numerous as they are varied: coins, branding irons, carpentry tools, traditional utensils, etc. An admirable collection of more than 2,100 sewing thimbles and numerous articles relating to lacework and embroidery also make up the museum's heritage.

The museum has an exhibit on four themes that are important for understanding the Montreux Region: history, land, tourism and hospitality.

For over a century, narcissi, or daffodils, have been one of the symbols of the Montreux Riviera.

In the Belle Epoque period and till the 1950's, the Narcissus Festival was the attraction of the year: Floats covered with flowers, international ballets and operas provided entertainment in Montreux. This event was replaced by others but even to this day so-called "May snow" covers the mountain meadows in spring.

There are a number of possibilities available for discovering this unique phenomenon in Switzerland: signposted trails, thematic guided tours organised by the Narcisses Riviera, or tailor-made group tours organised by Nature Escapade.

IMPORTANT: Avoid picking flowers to promote their protection!

Lutry and its medieval town form a bridge between Lausanne and Lavaux UNESCO World Heritage. With an 11th century church – a major religious architectural feature of the region – and a 16th century castle, Lutry's medieval remnants are what set this small town apart.

A tourist route guides visitors through the town.

Situated at the end of Lake Geneva, Villeneuve has preserved its former, traditional charm, which the walker will take great pleasure in discovering with each step. In the Station Square, the town hall, the old chapel of the Notre-Dame Hospital, attract the attention of the visitor. In the main street, Saint-Paul's church reveals the coat of arms of the House of Savoy. The lakeside, the vineyards, the mountain pastures and the Chalet de Chaude are all well worth the detour!

Preserved green areas, reedy marshes, swamps, alluvial forests, humid prairies, the old course of the Rhône river and ponds produced by gravel pits make up this magnificent nature reserve.

At the heart of the Grangettes

Recognized as being of international importance for water and migratory birds by the Ramsar Convention on humid zones, the Grangettes nature reserve offers a landscape in splendid contrast with the adjoining steep mountainsides and bordering lake.

As the last protected land on the banks of Lake Geneva, the reserve can be crossed during a two-hour walk (starting from Villeneuve, for example).

Each season reveals its treasures, both to the casual strollers and to the passionate naturalists who discover a paradise in this area. Hiding behind a bush, one can marvel at the rich, aquatic universe or just some of the 270 species of birds that have been identified so far, including the great egret or the kingfisher. Those with the most patience may even have the chance to spot a beaver or some rare migratory birds in this unique biotope in Europe.

Montreux Riviera is partly part of the Gruyère Pays-d'Enhaut Regional Nature Park, which extends on almost 200 square miles. A region to be discovered through the GRAND TOUR, a spectacular ten-stage hike, in the heart of the Pre-Alps, through outstanding, unspoilt landscapes.

“La Rambertia” is an alpine botanical garden that is located at an altitude of 2'025m. Over a thousand species of alpine flowers and plants grow in this garden at the summit of Rochers-de-Naye!

June – mid-October (10.00-17.00). Free admission. Access: departure from Montreux by cog railway, taking 55 minutes.

Walking along the gourmet paths combines the pleasure of light exercise with sampling local products. These walks offers four different routes: the Panoramic path (4hrs), the Lumberjacks' path (3hrs), the Family path (3hrs) and the Little Gourmet path (1½hr).
